

DORMA, YOUR BOOK MADE A DIFFERENCE!

Reviews of One Bad Decision

I Could Not Put It Down

As busy as I am, I started your book and could not put it down. Thank you for your honesty. Thank you for demonstrating such courage in baring your soul to help many women break out of their prisons with invisible walls. It was wonderful to read such a well written book. I look forward to you coming to Dallas to do a workshop for our women and youth.

Rev. Dr. Frederick Douglas Haynes, III, Pastor
Friendship West Baptist Church, Dallas, TX

I Stopped Abusing My Wife

I stopped reading your book halfway through. I couldn't take anymore. I was treating my wife the same way. I did not care how badly she hurt until I read your raw description of your pain. I asked her to forgive me and give me one more chance. Our marriage is healing.

William Loving, Detroit, Michigan

I Did Not Kill Myself

She was tired of the cruel words and beatings but too scared to leave and decided to kill her children, husband and herself. I did not know her plan and at tonight's session, gave her your book. Before loading the gun, she stayed up all night and read your book. She did exactly what you did. Fight Back! She left Michigan and has a new life. You saved a daughter, sister and mother of 4 children.

Psychologist, Southfield, MI

Raw, Intriguing, Long Overdue

You told your story so well I felt every pain and every victory. This book is needed not only by every woman that has ever been abused but by every man or child who needs to find the path to healing from any abuse. Even if it is self-imposed low self esteem.

Dr. Constance Wells, Detroit, MI

You Saved Me From Making A Horrible Mistake

My mother never talked to me about dating. All I knew is what I saw on television. I listened to your book on CD. My boyfriend said all the right things but something wasn't right. I stopped seeing him. The next week I found out he was HIV positive and had beaten women. Your courage to tell your story saved me from destroying my life.

Holly Ormanton, Harvard University